Here's why you must have a Lifestyle Assessment BEFORE you start renovating

There may be many reasons why people want to renovate their home but no matter what that reason is, the overriding goal is to improve their lifestyle.

Yet even though this is an undeniable fact, very few people have any way of assessing their lifestyle needs ... Until now ...

At Dion Seminara Architecture we understand that improving your lifestyle is the number one goal in any renovation; which is why we have created Brisbane's only pre-renovation Lifestyle Assessment.

Our Lifestyle Assessment is like nothing else in the market today, setting the standard for pre-design consultations and ensuring that your renovation will be perfectly suited to your lifestyle needs.

With a Dion Seminara Lifestyle Assessment you're guaranteed to have a home that offers you the highest levels of livability. Just take a look at what you will get from this amazing new service:

Current Lifestyle Assessment: Gaining a full understanding of your lifestyle needs is the vital first step to creating the perfect home for you and your family. Our assessment will dig deep to clarify exactly what you need from your home to give you the highest levels of livability.

Future Lifestyle Needs: Our needs change as we get older, which is why we will explore your potential future lifestyle requirements. Whether you're thinking of starting a family, or looking to grow old gracefully, our assessment will ensure that your future needs are fully catered for.

Design Solutions: Once we fully understand your lifestyle needs it's time to start exploring potential design solutions. This is where you will truly start to see the benefits of our years of experience in the field of architectural design, as we look at every possible option to help you achieve your lifestyle goals.

Budget Assessment: A great plan is only as good as the ability to execute it, which is why our budget assessment is so vital to the success of your project. We will look closely at the budget you have allocated and give you suggestions on how you can achieve maximum bang for your buck.

Capitalisation: Will your project leave your property over or undercapitalised? We will assess this and give you honest feedback to ensure that your property is achieving positive growth.

Overall Project Viability: Not every project idea is viable due to any number of factors. We will explore these with you, giving suggestions when required to ensure that your project has every chance of success.

Honest Feedback: If you appreciate honesty then you will welcome our feedback during this assessment. We promise to challenge you if we don't consider a proposed change will be of benefit to you. We are not 'Yes men' who sit back and let you have your way to your own detriment. We provide you with real direction to ensure that your project goals are met.

You would be crazy to start any renovation without first exploring all of your lifestyle needs. As Brisbane's leading lifestyle designers with more than 20 years experience in the field of renovation and new home design, we know that the livability of your home comes from understanding your true needs, which is why our all new comprehensive Lifestyle Assessment is a must for anyone looking to renovate their home.

So if the livability of your home is important to you, then you simply can't afford to miss out on a detailed Dion Seminara Architecture Lifestyle Assessment. Call us today on 07 3899 9450 and let us help you ensure that your renovation truly enhances your life.
